CLOVIS CITY COUNCIL INTRODUCES BUSINESS REGISTRATION AND LICENSE EXEMPTION FOR MILITARY PERSONNEL

In a unanimous 5-0 vote, the Clovis City Council introduced an ordinance on March 10, 2025, aimed at amending the Clovis Municipal Code to provide business registration and licensing exemptions for military personnel. The measure, designed to honor and support honorably retired veterans and active-duty service members, reflects the city's commitment to fostering an inclusive environment for those who have served.

The ordinance targets veterans and active-duty military members who own or operate businesses within Clovis. It stipulates specific requirements that must be met to qualify for the exemption, though city officials emphasized their intent to keep the program as accessible as possible. "We want to make it as open as possible and include as many individuals under this umbrella," a council member stated during the meeting, underscoring the goal of broadening participation.

Importantly, the exemption is not limited to Clovis residents. It extends to business owners who operate within city limits, even if they reside elsewhere. For example, a contractor living in Kerman but holding a Clovis business license to work in the city would qualify. "It's not just Clovis residents; it's Clovis business owners," clarified a council member, noting that the measure applies to anyone who opens a business or requires a license to operate in Clovis, regardless of their home address.
